*Neighbourhood plans are about guiding the future use and development of land in a way that meets the aspirations of the local community. For example they can identify sites or locations for development or redevelopment, type and tenure of new housing, protect the built heritage and natural environment (biodiversity and green spaces), set criteria for the design of new buildings, spaces, walking and cycling, sport, culture and well-being and set out what the area needs if it is to thrive. See www.csneighbourhoodplan.org and consultation leaflet.
